Eighteen-year-old Emily Preston has it all. She's beautiful, strong, and confident. But just weeks before graduating from high school, the nightmares she experienced as a child begin to plague her once more. When a mysterious voice warns that she must remember her past and accept her gift of seeing into the future in order to save her boyfriend's life, she believes she's losing her mind. The nightmares escalate into visions of long ago and memories begin to return. Will Emily allow herself to accept the gift or will she lose everything, including her life.
