

The Thread Frays: Book 2 of the Path to Chaos

The Weave is in tatters and chaos is increasing and the twins, Tul and Jack, must find each other so they can contain it and save the world. Pursued by evil draugr, they travel through Ganya, a world just recovering from a two-thousand-year-old winter. Tul and Catewyn are caught up in a murder in Murat, the exotic mountain city ruled by a beautiful queen. Jack, his sisters and friends, become entangled with the Society of Maat, a secret sect that seeks the ancient line of the kings of Ganya. The twins and their friends are swept forward by the chaos of the failing Weave, struggling to ward off the evil that follows. Can Jack and Tul find each other before the Weave completely fails? And is the prophecy true that says that one will die to save it?
